

International Residency

Program Description

The International Residency Program at the George Washington University School of Medicine and Health Sciences (SMHS) is a graduate medical training program designed to provide a strong clinical experience, as well as a basic overview of the American medical system as it is carried out at SMHS. Residents can expect to participate, with their American colleagues, in the work of a medical school that enjoys an outstanding international reputation for interdisciplinary coordination of education, research, diagnosis and treatment.

Goals

The goal of this program is to provide a strong clinical experience as well as a basic overview of the American medical system as it is carried out at SMHS.

THE GEORGE
WASHINGTON
UNIVERSITY

WASHINGTON, DC

For more information, please contact

The Office of International Medicine Programs

2600 Virginia Ave. NW, Suite 300 | Washington, DC 20037

Phone: (202) 994-2796 | impinfo@gwu.edu | smhs.gwu.edu/imp

International Residency

Eligibility Requirements

- Applicants must master written and spoken English.
- Applicants must hold a currently valid certificate issued by the Educational Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates (ECFMG).
- All international residents must be sponsored on a J-1 clinical visa.
- Applicants must be financially sponsored by their government or by a home country health institution.

Application Requirements

Internationally sponsored applicants should submit their application materials through ERAS and send an email to the Office of International Medicine Programs (IMP) with their AAMC number and a copy of their sponsorship letter.

The application must contain:

- Photo
- Curriculum Vitae
- Objective Statement
- ECFMG Certificate
- Copies of USMLE I & II CS and CK Scores (whatever test is applicable)
- Medical Degree
- Medical School Transcript
- Three Letters of Recommendation
- AAMC Number

Length of Appointment

-All positions are offered through the MATCH with an acceptance letter from IMP.

-Residents will be eligible for assignment to the SMHS for a period of no less than one year. The appointment will be effective June 23 or July 1 depending on the specialty. This allows the resident to start the program with other new residents, as well as participate in orientation.

-If you are off-cycle, please inform IMP.