1. Updated List of High Risk States: Mayor Muriel Bowser has issued an order requiring individuals to self-quarantine when returning to DC after non-essential travel to one of the "high risk" states in the nation. The self-quarantine should last 14 days from the date of your return from the identified high risk state. This includes states that were recently identified on the latest high risk list. The latest list of states was updated this week and is in effect until Monday, September 21. The new list of states is here: https://coronavirus.dc.gov/release/dc-health-releases-updated-list-high-risk-states-sept8

The next Learning Lab in the GW School of Medicine and Health Sciences Clinical Public Health educational series will continue our focus on the disproportionate impact of COVID-19 on marginalized populations. The session will comprise a moderated panel discussion among three community partners who will discuss factors that contribute to COVID's disproportionate impact on marginalized populations, as well as the role of community-based programs and approaches to address unmet social needs.

MODERATOR:

Lisa K. Fitzpatrick, MD, MPH, MPA, Infectious Disease Physician and Founder and CEO, Grapevine Health

PANELISTS:

Dionne Bussey-Reeder, MDiv, Executive Director, Far Southeast Family Strengthening Collaborative

Kim R. Ford, MPA, President and CEO, Martha’s Table

Christy Respress, MSW, Executive Director, Pathways to Housing DC
