Install the Panopto Recorder

If you have not already set up Panopto in your course, please see the instructions called "Link Your Course to Panopto."

To record a lecture in Panopto on your computer, you can either

1. Use the new Panopto Capture online recording tool (see instructions called "Using Panopto Capture"), or you can
2. Install the Panopto recorder on your computer. The Panopto recorder is already installed on most classroom computers.

Install the Panopto Recorder

For GW computers, download and install the software from the Software Center for PCs and SelfServe for Macs.

Get Panopto for Non-GW Computers from within Blackboard

For non-GW computers, you can download the software from within Panopto. Open your Blackboard course and open the Panopto item. Click the "Open in Panopto" icon in the upper right corner to open the Panopto website containing your entire video library for all of your courses.

On the video library website, click the Download Panopto link in the upper right corner and follow the instructions to install the recorder.
